The Camden County Museum

The museum chronicles centuries of Camden County's history, featuring local industries, tools, and artifacts from our extensive collection.

Pomona Hall

Interpreted to the year 1788, Pomona Hall recreates domestic life of the wealthy Cooper family. Tours of Pomona Hall touch on inequalities between different eighteenth century social groups while telling the story of Quakers, Camden, and the Cooper family.

For tours of Historic Pomona Hall, please call us at (856) 964-3333.

The Library

The Richard H. Hineline Research Library is a significant resource for researchers interested in historical and genealogical information.

The library contains nearly 100,000 resource materials such as:

- 20,000 books
- 1,100 manuscripts
- 20,000 photos
- 2,350 maps, journals, diaries, scrapbooks, postcards, and letters
- 3,500 deeds, church records, newspapers, yearbooks, WPA cards, genealogies

Additionally, the library holds records for the majority of local cemeteries and boasts the most complete collection of historical Camden County newspapers on microfilm, along with an extensive set of city directories for both Camden and Philadelphia.
